Welcome

Advocacy is the cornerstone upon which social work is built. It is so important that it is framed in three sections of our Code of Ethics. Advocacy for individual, community, and systems is not just a suggested activity for social workers, it is not “do it if you have some extra time” or “do it if inequity and disparity are very great” activity. It is a requisite. (Elizabeth J. Clark, NASW Executive Director)

What exactly is Policy Practice?

“Efforts to change policies in legislative, agency, and community settings, whether by establishing new policies, improving existing ones, or defeating the policy initiative of other people” (Jansson, 1999, p.10, as cited in Sullivan, n.d.)
